

Immaculate Conception Parish
Saint Stanislaus Parish

Jesus told his disciples this parable: "A man going on a journey called in his servants and entrusted his possessions to them. To one he gave five talents; to another, two; to a third, one—to each according to his ability. Then he went away.

"After a long time the master of those servants came back and settled accounts with them. The one who had received five talents came forward bringing the additional five. He said, 'Master, you gave me five talents. See, I have made five more.' His master said to him, 'Well done, my good and faithful servant. Since you were faithful in small matters, I will give you great responsibilities. Come, share your master's joy.

Dear Family,

Pastor's Corner

One of the most famous melodies of Gregorian Chant, Dies Irae is a beautiful reflection upon the Final Judgment at Christ's second coming. It is especially appropriate to consider it here at the end of the liturgical year, which is the time the Church sets aside for reflection upon death and our own personal judgment when we die. It is a somber reminder to examine our own hearts to make sure that we have not "fallen asleep" in the practice of our Faith. I am particularly struck by the lines:

"In weariness you sought for me, and suffering upon the tree! Let not in vain such labor be."

I want to share here an English Translation of the Dies Irae for you to reflect on:

THAT day of wrath, that dreadful day, shall heaven and earth in ashes lay,
as David and the Sybil say.

What horror must invade the mind when the approaching Judge shall find and sift the deeds of all mankind!

The mighty trumpet's wondrous tone shall rend each tomb's sepulchral stone and summon all before the Throne.

Now death and nature with surprise behold the trembling sinners rise to meet the Judge's searching eyes.

Then shall with universal dread the Book of Consciences be read to judge the lives of all the dead.

For now before the Judge severe all hidden things must plain appear;
no crime can pass unpunished here.

O what shall I, so guilty plead?
and who for me will intercede?
when even Saints shall comfort need?

O King of dreadful majesty!
grace and mercy You grant free;
as Fount of Kindness, save me!

Recall, dear Jesus, for my sake you did our suffering nature take then do not now my soul forsake!

In weariness You sought for me, and suffering upon the tree!
let not in vain such labor be.

O Judge of justice, hear, I pray, for pity take my sins away before the dreadful reckoning day.

Your gracious face, O Lord, I seek;
deep shame and grief are on my cheek;
in sighs and tears my sorrows speak.

You Who did Mary's guilt unbind, and mercy for the robber find,
have filled with hope my anxious mind.

How worthless are my prayers I know, yet, Lord forbid that I should go into the fires of endless woe.

Divorced from the accursed band,
o make me with Your sheep to stand,
as child of grace, at Your right Hand.

When the doomed can no more flee from the fires of misery with the chosen call me.

Before You, humbled, Lord, I lie, my heart like ashes, crushed and dry, assist me when I die.

Full of tears and full of dread is that day that wakes the dead, calling all, with solemn blast to be judged for all their past.

Lord, have mercy, Jesus blest, grant them all Your Light and Rest. Amen.
