Do You Know how to Party?

The month of August is parish picnic season at St. Stanislaus and Immaculate Conception and it begs the question, do you know how to picnic (party)? Here are the top five things NOT to do if you want to be a suave picnicker.

1. Skip the event altogether because “better people, better plans” elsewhere.
2. Get drunk.
3. Complain about the format not being to your liking.
4. Complaining in general. This is different than constructive suggestions afterwards for next year’s picnic.
5. Cut in line in front of Fr. Justin.

Top five things to do:

1. Sign up to volunteer and help out (many hands make light work).
2. Warmly introduce yourself to at least one person you don’t know.
3. Invite your extended family and friends to attend.
4. Eat lots of food and enjoy a few drinks!
5. Let Fr. Justin win all games that he competes in.

These picnics are not purely about entertainment, although I obviously want all of you to enjoy the picnics and to have a good time. The most important thing at the picnics are the people. Unfortunately, I have heard comments such as “if they don’t have such and such food, I’m not coming” or “if I have to wait in line too long, forget it”. This sort of attitude is not Christ-like, and it is inimical to unity and charity. Picnics are about good food and drinks, enjoying life, and making good memories, but most importantly they are a chance to love the people God has put in our lives and blessed us with and to serve them. It is also a great opportunity to get to know someone who is new to the parish and to help them feel welcome and connected. I am excited for our upcoming annual picnics and the chance to spend lots of time celebrating life with all of you! Let’s make these picnics some of the best we’ve ever had!

Stay classy fellow picnickers!

Fr. Justin
